DENVER, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.) The People's Savings Bank, the Rocky Mountain Dime and Dollar Bank and the Colorado Savings Bank did not open their doors this morning. The assets of the People's Bank amount to $1,500,000; the liabilities to $1 330,000.

President Lawrence says the failure will in no way affect the People's National Bank.

The Colorado Savings Bank's statenent shows deposits amount to $486,000; with assets of $730,649 in excess of liabilities.

The assets of the Rocky Mountain Dime and Dollar Savings Bank are $156,803; liabilities, $105,654. The officers of all three institutions say their debts will be paid in full. It is understood all assignments were preconcerted for self-protection and the protection of depositors. President Lawrence of the People's Bank says it had about completed arrangements for temporary lief from Eastern banks, but the ings of the silver convention here caused them to withdraw all their aid, and the bank had no other recourse but to assign.

A Private institution and a National Bank Suspend Operations.

KANSAS CITY, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.) The Grand Avenue Bank, a private institution, suspended payments this morning. The assets are $200,000; liabilities, $140,000. It is expected they will resume shortly. It is not doubted among bankers but they will pay dollar for dollar.

The Comptroller of the Currency took possession of the Missouri National Bank at noon today. The bank has a paid-up capital of $250,000. According to a statement to the Comptroller on Saturday, it had cash and sight exchange amounting to $271,000; deposits, $900,763.

A later statement by the officers show assets $1,254,000; liabilities, $700, show assets $1,254,000; liabilities, $700,-900. Assistance was on the way from the East, but did not arrive in time, as depositors were making heavy drafts on the bank. The officers de-clare that the depositors will be paid in full.

The Star this evening gives publication to the following statement in regard to the gold payments from the United States sub-treasury in New York: "Considerable effort is being made by financial agents here to discover the motive behind these payments, but the department is as closemouthed as a clam. The explanation got through private sources is that the got through private sources is that the department is trying to take advan tage of the scarcity of small and co venient currency for internal busine to pinch the banks as the banks has to pinch the banks as the banks have pinched the government by storing gold. The banks are generally in need of small bills for current business transactions and use in the agricultural districts. The theory advanced is that if they cannot get what they need of this sort of currency by any other means they will have to make terms with the treasury, which involves exchanging gold or gold certificates in large quantities for notes and certificates of small denominations."

De Young Declared Positively to Be the Man.
The San Francisco Examiner of Sun day publishes the following:

"M. H. de Young will, beyond doubt, be appointed Senator of the United States to fill the vacancy in that body caused by the death of Leiand Stan-caused by the death of Leiand Stanford.

The appointment will be made on Tuesday.

"These statements are made on the authority of gentlemen well known in political life.

"Mr. de Young has also stated to one of his closest personal friends that the appointment of United States Senator would be made on Tuesday, and that he would receive the appointment.

"Another gentleman, a prominent Republican politician in the southern part of the State, one who has taken a most lively interest in the political ambitions of Mr. de Young, and whose information came from a source that could not be doubted, stated that Mr. de Young would receive his commission as Senator of the United States on Tuesday.

"Gov. Markham came to this city yesterday afterinon, and his actions last night in refusing to see even his most intimate friends showed that he came here with his mind fully made up; showed that he did not care to argue the question or hear the least of the title of th ister.'

"So the Governor was given room;
76 and 78, on the fourth floor, on the 76 and 78, on the fourth floor, on the New Montgomery-street side, and those who expected to find him in his old apartments on the second floor failed to discover his whereabouts.

"He gave orders at the hotel office that no cards were to be sent up to him, and that he was not to be disturbed under any circumstances.

"It became known about town during the evening, however, that the Governor was in the city, and a few was not in, and that was sufficient in most cases.

"In evidence of the distinguished guest's desire to be alone it may be interesting to note the fate of a note of inquiry sent up by a representative of the Examiner.

"The note was handed to the Governor by the hall boy. The Governor read it through and saw that the writer was awaiting an answer.

"Does the gentleman know that I am in? he asked of the hall boy.

"I think not, Governor?

"Then tell him you shoved it under the door.'

"The hall boy started to deliver this The hall boy started to deliver this message, when he was met by another boy bearing the Governor's dinner.

"The dinner tray was not shoved under the door, and the writer of the note knew that his missive had been delivered. But there was no answer forthcoming.

"And so it was that the Governor of California was undisturbed during all

And so it was that the Governor of California was undisturbed during all the remaining hours of the day. He saw no one but the hall boy and the boy who brought his dinner. He sent no messages. He received no letters from the outside.

"He sat silent and alone until 10 p. m., then put out his light and went to bed.

"Down in the corridors there were politicians of all degrees. Senator Carpenter and Hervey Lindley of Los Angeles hob-nobbed together all the evening, and talked politics to all comers.
"Secretary Bassett of the Republican State Central Committee occupied a post of observation in the rotunda, and Col. D. M. Burns leisurely strolled through, but made no effort to see the Governor.

"What do you think of this De Young business?" asked a bystander of Col. Burns.

Surns.
"'What De Young business?' asked

Burns.

"What De Young business?" asked Col. Burns in response.

"The story that Markham is going to make De Young Senator."

"Why should he?"

"They say it is because it will satisfy De Young and make his paper solid for his party for all time to come.

"Well, said Col. Burns, I guess the first part of that is all right. It would no doubt satisfy De Young if it didn't satisfy anybody else.

"Burns knew well enough." said some bystander to another person, a few minutes later, that Markham has made up his mind to appoint De Young, and he is doing his best to make him change his mind.

"De Young will never get it," said Senator Carpenter, and Hervey Lindley joined in the chorus.

"To a reporter Col. Burns said that he had no information whatever.

"I am inclined to think that the Governor has not made up his mind what to do. Presumably he has come down her to talk the matter over with people whose opinion he desires to know, but if it is true that he has gone to bed without seeing any one, it must be that he is holding a consultation with himself preparatory to letting others into it later on?

"All the politicians of various degrees did nothing but talk United States Senatorship during the evening. All the names of well-known aspirants for the position were gone over, as were their chances of success, but as the night grew on the names of all others except De Young were heard only at long intervals. The action of the Governor in declining to see any of his friends, his secrecy in entering the hotel, the incident of his having his apartments changed, made is apparent to all that the Governor had made up his mind, and that he did not want to be disturbed—would not give any one even a chance to talk with him in an effort to have him reconsider his determination."

"The talk in the corridors and cafe was mostly in regard to the appointment of De Young.

"Late in the evening the statement that Mr. de Young had told a friend that he was to receive the appointment on Tuesday, was repeated, and when the source of the story was learned there was hardly one among all the politicians who did not believe it.

"Mr. de Young was seen last night by a reporter.

"Mr. de Young was seen last night by a reporter.

"Then Mr. de Young stated that he had had no communication with the Governor on the subject of his appointment, and that if such appointment was to be made he had no knowledge of it."

. HOW ANIMALS COUNT. . Some Curious Experiments With Dogs, Cate

A Russian physician has been mak-ing some curious experiments to find cut how far animals can count. He declares that the crow can count up to ten, and is thereby superior in arithmetic to certain Polynesian tribes of men who cannot get beyond five or six.

The doctor had a dog, which was ac-The doctor had a dog, which was accustomed to bury the bones it found, each one in a separate place in the garden. One day, wishing to test the animal's power counting, the master gave it no less than twenty-six bones, which were all buried one after another in special hiding-places. The next day the dog was given no more bones, and so was forced to dig up the old ones. Without any hesitation he uncovered ten and then came to a stop.

stop.

After whining and running about as

After whining and running about as if in a state of great perplexity, a new idea seemed to enter the canine brain, and again the dog began to dig up the hidden bones, and this time he added nine to the total before his memory again failed him.

Then there was a second period of whining and perplexity, after which the seven remaining bones were found with some difficulty.

The doctor concluded from this that twenty-six was too large a number for the dog to take in all at once, and that he had been solliged to remember the bones as it were in three shorter series.

The cat, it would seem, is even less of an arithmetician than the dog, not being able to count as far as ten.

Before giving his cat its regular piece of meat, the doctor would put it under the animal's nose and then withdraw it five times in succession, and it was only the sixth time that he would give the cat the morsel. This number was repeated every day until the cat grew perfectly accustomed to waiting five times, but would spring forward of its own accord at the gixth presentation.

Having thus demonstrated that pussy was able to remember up to six, the doctor tried to seven, but without success. As soon as he attempted to perform the experiment with higher numbers the cat became confused and would jump forward for the meat at the wrong time. The number six, therefore, would seem to be the limit of the cat's power of counting.

Not less interesting were similar experiments with horses. In the village of Pekoe, the doctor found a peasant's horse which was used for plowing, and which had acquired the habit of counting the furrows and stopping for a rest regularly at the twentieth. So confident was the plowman of the accuracy of his horse's calculations that at the end of the day he used to estimate the amount of work done, not by counting the furrows himself, but by simply remembering the number of times his horse had stopped to rest.

In another village the doctor found a horse which was able to count the mile-posts along the way, and which had be but if there would go on working twelve he would go on working signedly.

The experiment was made of striking twelve strokes at the wrong time, whereupon the horse started for his oats in spite of the fact that he had been fed only an hour before. This shows that little knowledge may be a shad thing for horses as well as men.

Dr. Holmes to the School Children.
(Boston Journal:) Our good and genial autocrat has always the faculty of doing a graceful thing in a graceful of doing a graceful thing in a graceful way. One of the latest illustrations of this faculty is his letter to some school children, who wrote to him, at the suggestion of their teacher, to express their opinion of "The Last Leaf," which they had been studying. In his reply Dr. Holmes wrote: "I am glad to be told that I have written what has instructed and gratified you. The poem called "The Last Leaf" was written sixty-three years ago, before most of your fathers, ond some of your grandfathers, were born. I am 'almost the last leaf myself now, but I am glad to be reminded that the tree of life is full of young leaf buds, which will spread in the sunshine of the twentieth century, when the bough to which I am still clinging is shorn of its last year's latest leaf."

Justice Blatchford's Great Fortune.
Justice Blatchford was one of the few men who ever sat upon the Su preme Court bench who possesses great wealith, and he was not only the richest man, who ever sat upon an American bench, but probably the richest who ever held an appointive office in America. He might haves pent the last twenty years of his life in delightful ease, but he used to declare to this friends who pleaded with him to retire that he was happier when at work, and that no recreation which he could command would begin to give him the pleasure which his duty as justice afforded him. He inherited and fortune, and by private practice and roal estate investment he became worth as much as $3,000,000.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, LOS ANGELES, July 17, 1893

The local wholesale produce markets con-nue quiet and steady.

The New York Commercial Bulletin, re-lewing the dried fruit trade, says: "Offers to seil raisins at prices below open quota ons have been made during the past week and it seems more than probable that the California growers and packers need to keep 4 watchful eye upon Spanish packers this season, since the latter evidently are keep 4 watchful eye upon Spanish packers this season, since the latter evidently are on the alert to gain every advantage that may accrue from Pacific Coast handlers of raisins, holding the umbrella as they did in the earlier part of the season. There is, however, a redeeming feature in the fact that prices are exceptionally low, and carry over of old stock is comparatively light. In the ordinary course of events, the stock on hand is likely to be reduced considerably before new goods come upon the market. There are no developments in the market for the new rop of evaporated apricots and California peaches. The low-4750-Fruit store, close to Spring and Court, low rent, long lease, elegant store; lease worth half the amount asked; splendid stock, Al condition; heavy cash trade, 50 per day; established for years; good fixtures, soda fountain, etc.; a bargain.

wheat harvest is well forward in the south-east of England. The recent rains came too late to help any cereals there, but saved oats and beneited bariey elsewhere. Some excellent judges estimate the yield of wheat will be twenty-eight bushels per acre on 2,000,000 acres. Our estimate for the United Kingdom is 2,100,000 acres, the smaller acress of the property of the smaller acress of the second of the control of the cont $1200—Grocery store, well located; has a good cash family trade, country pro-duce, lunch goods, etc.; low rent, good fixtures; rare chance for man and wife; business assures good salary; only $1290. 2500—Half interest in a long and well-established fruit canning and drying business; has everything necessary for the business; goods are introduced and sold to the trade all over the Coast; leading houses in this city handle and recommend the goods; proprietor practical man, understands his business; will put in a reasonable amount with incoming partner to extend the business; unilamited market. the smallest acreage planted for half a cen-tury, with an average yield that will pos-sibly be as low as that of 1886, namely, 2680 bushels to 100 acres. English wheat has declined 1d. on imperial average, but has advanced 6d. in London. Foreign wheat was of irregular value. American red winter dropped from 6d. to 9d. on the week. Calcutta wheat is 6d. cheaper."

New York Stocks. NEW YORK, July 17 .- The week opened NEW YORK, July 17.—The week opened with renewed depression on the Stock Exchange, owing to unfavorable advices from London. The bears are practically in full coatrol, and hammered most everything on the list with more or less success in the absence of effective support on the bull side. The decline is equal to \(\frac{1}{463}\)\frac{1}{2}\text{ye} per cent. American Tobacco leading with sales as low as 57\(\frac{1}{2}\). There were a number of railies, but they failed to hold until just previous to the close, when prices recovered \(\frac{1}{46}\)\frac{1}{2}\text{ye} per cent. from the lowest. Government bonds closed steady.

Government Savings Banks.

Silver advocates will be likely to view with some suspicion any suggestion on the financial question coming from Henry Clews. His latest idea will, however, without doubt be widely discussed. It is to allow national banks to issue notes up to the par value of their United States bonds, also to provide for the issue of notes against the surplus capital of national banks, to the extent of 5 per cent of such capital. In this manner it is estimated that strong movement which has been se for the establishment of postal

All we must ask and expect of the journalist is that he never voluntarily tells an untruth or commits libel.

Now that the silver question is se prominently before the people, the foilowing statement, showing duction of the precious metals in the United States, will be found interesting. In 1891, the yield of the various States and Territories was as follows:

production was more than twice that of gold. Nevada and Arizona, which used to be leading silver producers, have retired far into the rear, the race for pre-eminence now lying between Colorado and Montana, which, together, produce nearly two-thirds of all the silver mined in the country, while Nevada, which used to astonish the world, comes in fifth, with only about 6 per cent, of the total output. When it comes to gold, California stands out proudly with a yield almost three times as great as that of any other political subdivision. This production would have been very largely increased, had hydraulic mir ing not been stopped.

In considering these figures it should forgotten that a large proportion of the gold product is yielded by the silver mines. On the Comstock the gold produced amounted to about half of the total output. Alaska produced out as much gold as Arizo of this is from one remarkable mine, which is in fact, a mountain of low

Some Causes of Growth.

People who have lived for a long customed to the excellence of our climatic environment that they take it all as a matter of course, never stop-ping to contrast the natural conditions which exist here with those that obtain in other less favored sections of the country. But the resident of California, no matter what the ills he has to contend with, nor how great the misfortunes that overtake him, has thing to be thankful for every day of his life, in that he lives in a land where the elements do not combine against him, and where his life is secure from those elemental forces which so often work devastation and death in other

Referring to the telegraphic reports find that the number killed by tornadoes east of the Rockies, up to the 8th of the present month, is 170, and still the cyclone season has hardly more than opened. These mighty wind-twisters are liable to occur at any time during hot weather at the East, nd their visitation is by no means unknown after the chill of autumn and the frosts of winter have set in. All times and seasons they are beginning to claim as their own, and in connection with them there is the sense of insecurity and danger, for, when the ments combine against men how help-living in California cannot fully realize, without a visit to those sections of the country which are liable possess that sense of exemption from all danger from their visitation which we have here. There are those beyond the great mountains, which are the backbone of the continent, who watch every black cloud with a sense of terror, and who rely upon their storm caves and cellars as their only places of refuge. In a letter received not long ago by the writer a person living in Nebraska writes: "We watch every black by the writes of the control of the cont ago by the writers "We watch every black cloud, and when we retire at night it is with the feeling that we do not ing to waste in the shar what may happen before morn- streams that in some cases fall four know what may happen before morning."

As cyclones are of more frequent occurrence that feeling of insecurity grows, and men long for a place of no way detracts from the value of the water for irrigation. The mountain streams of Southern California, properly utilized, can be made to operate all the factories that we shall need for many years to come. Those who get in early and utilize this power will make plenty of money.

According to the testimony of Capt. Bourke, of the British battle-ship Victoria, which was sunk in a collision with the Camperdown off the coast of with the Camperdown off the coast of Syria, Admiral Tryon originally fixed the distance between the maneuvering vessels at six cables' length, but subsequently acquiesced in the suggestion of his staff officers, and increased it to eight cables' length. When it became time to put the order into execution, however, the Admiral, despite the dan gerous proximity of the other vessels, insisted on maintaining the six cables' length, apparently for no other reason than that he was reminded by the deck lieutenant that his instructions had first been issued to that effect.

While banks are failing and com mercial enterprises contracting throughout the East, affairs in Southern California are moving along in the even tenor of their way. It is true there is no particular boom under way at present, but there is no lack of con fidence, and business generally is fully up to the average of the summer sea-son. The advertising columns of The Times are well filled, and there is plenty of money in circulation. This section has advanced beyond the re-gion of probabilities. Its assured pros-perity is an actual fact.

The railroads are fighting hard to avert the pending cut in rates to Chi-cago. Even if granted, it appears that these reductions will have little effect on Pacific Coast rates. It is reasonable to suppose that these corporations know their own interests, and yet it is difficult to reconcile their steady oppo-sition to a reduction of rates with the fact that such reduction would undoubt-edly result in largely increased travel, besides inducing greater settlement of the sections from which the roads dray their revenues.

The Western railroads are beginning to feel uneasy over a decrease in travel to the World's Fair, and a meeting of the Western Passenger Associa-tion will probably be held this week to consider a reduction in rates. The proposed rate of one fare for the round trip for points over two hundred miles much as anything to boom travel in the West.

The national commissioners of the World's Fair have proclaimed their in-dependence by laying aside indefinitely the contested case of White vs. Webster for the seat in the commission for New Mexico. The Governor of tha Territory removed White, and President Cleveland sanctioned the removal but by the commission's action Mi White retains his seat, neverheless

It is difficult to keep track of all the bank closings. Kansas, Colorado, Misoank closings. That fatal fireworks' accident in Chicago, which is almost a duplicate of the Los Angeles tragedy of a year ago, suggests the need of more complete control of the business of making and handling fireworks. Some of the mod-ern varieties of pyrotechnics are almost as dangerous as engines of war.

California shows up grandly in the amount of money in deposit in its sav-ings banks. The average amount per capita varies from $45.21 in North Carolina to $759 in California, which is the highest on the list. Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Ohio and New York follow this State, in the order named.

"The exposition's baptism of death" is what the New York Press so aptly denominates the fire in Jackson Park, n which so many of the firemen lost their lives on the 10th inst. ### LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

As Old and Impotent Comrade.

LOS ANGELES, July 16, 1893.—(To the Editor of The Times.) This evening Rev. R. G. Hutchins, of the First Congregational Church, preached against Sunday desceration. He was very bitter against the Sunday newspaper, denouncing it in strong terms. He said it was impossible to publish the Sunday paper without descerating the Subbath, and that the Monday paper could be printed and published so as to give the printers and other newspaper employees the benefit of the Sabbath. I do not see how it could be done. Will you kindly show through your columns how the Sunday paper is made up? It would be interesting reading. Mr. H. would like "to swap the ellmate of California for the Sundays of Toronto," where the Sunday is closely observed.

I am truly,

W. W. WELLS.

(The Rev. Robert G. Hutchins is ignorant and absurd-when he undertakes to preach on the subject of Sunday newspapers, besides being probably malignant, with a wound in the side of his vanity. The various processes employed in making a daily paper are described in detail in The Times of July 2, 1893. The Sunday morning newspaper requires practically no Sunday work at all, or very little. The Monday morning newspaper requires all, or nearly all. Sunday work. These are facts that should be known to intelligent presons.—Ed. Times.)

Society Record IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

There was a pleasing party Sunday evening at the residence of John Grimm, on South Broadway, in celebration of the host's birthday. Excellent vocal and instrumental music was rendered, the latter including selections on the plano, guitar, mandolin and zither. After partaking of a hearty supper, served in regular German style, the guests kept up the festivities until a late hour.

The following seven from a party of twelve returned Sunday from a week's merry outing at Strain's Camp, Wilson's Peak: Mr. and Mrs. Niles Pease, the Misses Grace and Florence Pease, A. W. Swanfeldt and Mrs. and Miss Frankenfeld. Frankenfield. While there they passed the days in trout fishing and in having a good social time.

WORLD'S FAIR SOUVENIRS.

asing and Apparently Practicable Sugges tions on the Subject.

The subject of World's Fair souvenirs of California is not yet exhausted. Among the most pleasing, and what seems like the most practicable of new seems like the most practicable of new suggestions, is that of yucca utilized for this purpose. It is well known that the yucca wood, although fibrous, is capable of being transformed into many articles of use and ornament. For surgeons' splints it is strong, yet bends easily; as a tree protector it absorbs and holds the moisture and is invaland holds the moisture and is invalable; and as a mural decoration there is scarcely anything that surpasses it. It takes beautiful colors, and retains them, in the almost endless variety of tints desired for walls. By means of them, in the almost endiess variety or tints desired for walls. By means of machinery supplied with a sharp knife it may be sliced of delicate thinness, and the suggestion is offered, through the Chamber of Commerce, that if such strips were appropriately stamped they would be not only novel but attractive souvenirs at the exposition.

Another suggestion, from a private source, is that small blocks in different shapes be cut across the grain from the native woods of California, polished, and the name of the wood either stamped or printed on the side, together with the name of the mountain. valley or town from which each came In this way all localities could be repre seuted, while there would be nothing about it of the nature of an advertise ment, and by the names of various sec-tions of the State being brought into thousands of Eastern homes investigation might be fostered.

There has also been saggested a fringed bookmark of gold or orange colored ribbon (silk or cheaper ma-terial) on which should be printed at the top "California Souvenir, World's the top "California Souvenir, Worius Fair, 1893," below that the coat of arms of the State, below that a cut of the California building and below that a cluster of fruit. It is thought that with the cuts once prepared it could be made inexpensive.

whole and referred to the Police Commission.

Councilman Gaffey asked if it would not be necessary to control the matter by passing an ordinance.

Councilman Munson said that certain rules were voted on by the Police Commission one year ago, and he could not see why it should not do so now.

The City Attorney was called in and interogated. He said that he did not like to answer the question off-hand. There were certain rights which the Police Commission had. The Council could pass any ordinance it pleased, but just what power it had to pass an ordinance preventing the "ladies" or "family" entrances to saloons he was not prepared to immediately state.

Councilman Nickell said that he wished to do what was fair in the matter, but desired to wait first till the City Attorney sirbuid have an opportunity to prepare an opinion. He did not desire, as some of the other Councilmen evidently did, to set up his opinion when the City Attorney was not prepared to do so.

Councilman Rhodes said that he did not wish to be understood as giving his opinion as knowing more about the matter than the City Attorney. He believed, however, that the Police Commission had the power to require the signs to the side entrances to be removed, and even to force the abondonment of the side entrances to be removed, and even to force the abondonment of the side entrances.

Councilman Gaffey said that Mr. Rhodes had said the Police Commission high have it within its discretion to require such things. If an ordinance was passed, however, regulating them, then it would be mandatory on the part of the commission to enforce such regulations.

The matter was finally referred to the City Attorney, with instructions to

A communication was presented from the City Tax and License Collector askthe City Tax and License Collector asking that he be authorized to employ nine deputies to write up tax receipts. Councilman Nickell opposed the granting of the request. He said he knew that it had formerly been the custom to do the work in this manner, but he thought that money could be saved to the city by hiring at a later date image help for a lesser time.

The requisitions were approved, with the exception of two for barley for the street department, which were laid over till afternoon.

At this time Chairman Innes of the Supply Committee rose and asked to be informed what the duties of the Supply Committee were. He said that it seemed to be the rule for the various departments of the city government to purchase what they pleased, irrespective of the Supply Committee.

Councilman Nickell said that all the Supply Committee needed to do in such cases was to refuse to approve such requisitions.

Councilman Munson introduced an ordinance providing for one additional assistant in the City Clerk's office, who should act as copyist, at a salary of $50 per month. Passed.

The Supply Committee was requested to prepare a statement showing the number of employees in the various departments of the city government, and the salarles being paid them; also a similar statement of the matter as it stood one year ago.

Afternoon Session.
The Council convened again soon atter 2 o'clock.
The Sewer Committee reported that, in the matter of protest from property-owners on Alameda street and other streets, against the Street Supenintendent's acceptance of the sewer in said district, it had examined and found that the brick pavement on Alameda street on the line of the sewer was in a bad condition, and would, therefore, recommend that the protest be sustained, and the acceptance of the work by the Street Superintendent be set aside, and that the Street Superintend-ent notify the contractor to put the street in as good a condition as he found it before the work will be accepted. Adopted.

FLOWER-STREET OPENING.

The hearing on the protest against the opening of Flower street between Twentieth and Twenty-third streets was next in order. A number of property-owners appeared and expressed their views for and against the opening. President Teed then called Councilman Munson to the chair, and made some remarks on the subject. He said that the best way to relieve the property-owners, whose property suffered because of being flooded with water during the winter, was the construction of storm drains. This, however, could not well be done, and the proposed opening would afford a means of diverting the water. If the street were not opened he thought it very probable that the present street would have to be regraded at the expense of the city. The matter was finally referred to the City Engineer to ascertain the legal frontage represented by the protest. FLOWER-STREET OPENING.

FIRST-STREET WIDENING.

FIRST-STREET WIDENING.
The hearing on the Dehail protest against the proposed widening of First street east from Los Angeles street came up next.

J. L. Murphey, Esq., appeared for Mr. Dehail and addressed the Council at some length on the matter. He said that Mr. Dehail desired not to pose as obstructing public improvements, but believed that if the street were to be left narrow between Los Angeles and Main streets there was no need of widening in front of his property.

After some discussion both of the First street widening matters were referred to the Board of Public Works.

President Teed moved that that portion of the Mayor's message referring to "ladles" entrances be taken from the committee of the whole. Adopted. Councilman Rhodes moved that that portion of the message be transmitted to the Police Commission, together with the City Attorney's opinion in reference to the same.

Councilman Gaffey said that the Police Commission was aware of the existing evil. The Mayor, who had made the recommendation, was a member of the commission. All the members of the Council were aware of the existing evil. The Mayor, who had made the recommendation, was a member of the council were aware of the existing evil. The manner of disposing of it was the only thing in dispute.

President Teed said that there seemed to be a disposition on the part of some of the members of the Council to take the matter from the commission before that body had had an opportunity to enforce the regulation.

Councilman Gaffey made some reply, and in a moment there was a war of words between the President and the representative of the Eighth Ward.

Councilman Nickell said that he did not like to have an indefinite question referred to the commission. He did not vote for any of the present commissioners.

Councilman Strohm said he could not see any reason for Councilman Gaffey insisting on the doors being closed. Councilman Innes repaired that he did not help elect any of the present commissioners.

Councilman Gaffey moved to amend Mr. Rhodes's motion by changing it so that the Police Commission should be requested to abate the nulsance known as "side" or "ladles" entrances to saloons, and that the City Attorney should present to the Council ah ordinance abating such entrances.

President Teed moved to further amend by adding the words, "if in his judgment it was legal."

Both of these amendments were lost, and then a vote was taken on Mr. Rhodes's motion.

Councilman Munson, who had been in the chair all this time, decided the vote carried, and, after nearly a minute, Councilman Gaffey asked for a roll call.

The chair ruled that it was now too late to call the roll, as no one had immediately questioned the decision. The Harr Wagner, superintendent of the county schools, is authority for the statement that the new liberty bell will be brought to California to be seen in some place hereafter to be designated, on September 9, in compliment to Mrs. Wagner. It is said that Hiram Mabury, one of the heaviest stockholders in the suspended Consolidated National Bank, is at Chicago, sick, and that one purpose in sending John Ginty to the World's Fair to talk up the resources of this county is to enable him to present the situation to Mr. Mabury more clearly, and thus to expedite the opening of the bank.

It is now feared that the financial stringency will interfere with the county fair, which is fixed for September. After having oscillated back and forth for several years between Escondido and San Diego, the fair meanwhile gradually petering out, it was finally decided to establish permanent grounds here. The City Council gave eighty acres in the bleak 1400-acre city park tract, and the directors intended to erect commodious buildings and make a fine speed course. Their plans are badly disconcerted in consequence of bank failures, and the fair will probably not equal what was intended.

The word was passed around on Saturday night and Sunday morning that Vice-President Stevenson and party would attend the First Presbyterian Church is San Diego on Sunday. (denness Miller Monthly:) Some children have a great horror of some animal; it may be a dog or the "harmless, necessary cat." This is probably instinct. The common repugnance to anything of the snake kind is natural to all, both young and old, though here and there a person is found who cultivates reptiles, but they are usually found unresponsive. Children may be led by example and companionship to tolerate the cat or dog and are much the happier for it. Force, however, should never be used. It is a great thing to accustom children to insects, to show them the bright activity of files, the wondrous ways of spiders and the comicalities of earwigs. We should firmly impress on them the utter innocence of all these things, and, if possible, the pretty ways of mice and the cleverness of rats. Let them know that the bright-eyed toad is harmless and the yellow-jacketed frog a merry fellow, and tell them the natural mission of those creatures. Then the absurb fear of insects would die out by degrees and we should not have jumps and screams when wet weather makes spiders busy, or the small rodents nibble and screatch. spiders busy, or the small rodents nibble and scratch.

The contestants were a couple of men named Fraser and Raymond, the former of Los Angeles and the latter of San Francisco. They first had some trouble at the Park Theater, when one trouble at the Park Theater, when one of them threatened to "knock the head" off the other. They were about to settle the matter on the spot, when it was suggested that they put it off, go into training and fight it out according to prize-ring rules. This was agreed to, and the men met as above stated. There was no science displayed, but it was for blood from the moment they entered the ring. The fighting was fast and furious until Fraser caught Raymond on the chin, knocking him out. The time of the fight was just fifty-eight seconds.

On motion it was decided to open the bids for paving Raymond and Fair Oaks avenue, between Union street on the north and Vineyard street on the south. There were three bidders—the Asphalt Paving Company of Los Angeles, A. McNally of Los Angeles and the N. P. Perine Contractions of Paving Company of San Francisco Company of Los Auge Los Angeles and the N. P. Perine Contracting and Paving Company of San Francisco. Separate bids were handed in by all three-bidders for the work on each of the avenues, but the figures were the same. Here they are: The Los Angeles Paving Company, 31½ cents per square foot; A. McNally, 32% cents; the Perine Contracting and Paving Company, 31 cents. On motion the contracts for paving both streets were awarded to the Perine company, and the long-drawn-out agony was over.

OTHER BIDS. Two bids were opened for laying cement sidewalks on both sides of Fair Oaks avenue, between Chestnut and Kansas streets. The contract was awarded to Gray Bros.'

COLTON.

Pursuant to the call of the Republican County Central Committee, the thirty-eight delegates representing the voting precincts of the Third Supervisor District met in convention in the City Hall in this city on Monday for the purpose of selecting a candidate to represent this new third district upon the Board of County Supervisors. A. F. Judson of Colton was elected chairman and Frank Kasson of Redlands secretary of the convention. As Redlands had in the convention fifteen of the twenty-eight votes, and as the delegates from that city had been instructed for A. B. Ruggles of Redlands, it was useless to name any man from any other place. But there was no disposion to do this, as the man selected by Redlands was acceptable to Republicans throughout the district so when Mr. Ruggles was blaced before the convention by Maj. F. C. Prescott, he was made the unanimous nominee by acclamation. The convention was a notably harmonious one throughout. There is some talk amobg the Democrats of placing George Cooley of East Colton in nomination in opposition, but as the district as now constituted is Republican, he could scarcely be elected, though he is a very popular man. The nominations are for the election called for August 8, and as the time intervening in less than required by law for regular convention nominations, the selection made Monday must be confirmed by petition, making it the same as an independent nomination. The Board of Supervisors met Monday morning in regular session with all members and the clerk present.

DROWNING AT NEWPORT.

The second mate of the steamer Al-Ki was drowned Monday morning when nearing Newport. Just after steam had been shut off, and when the steamer was out quite a distance at sea, a small boat in which the second mate and one deck were seated, was being lowered, when by some miscaiculation the boat overturned, dropping the second mate into the sea. The other man clung to the boat and was saved. The second mate drowned before assistance could reach him. The body has not yet been found, and the name has not yet been found, and the name has not yet been ascertained. The steamer Al-Ki is at Newport loading on 15,000 sacks of barley from the San Joaquin ranch. This same vessel lost two sallors by an unfortunate accident at Newport about six months ago.

SANTA ANA BREVITIES. OWNED THE EARTH.

City Marshal Lorbeer took a colored man to Los Angeles yesterday and placed him in jail. The fellow was crazy. He lived at Spadra, and has been annoying the people there for some time. He is under the impression that he owns all of Spadra and the country around it, including the railroad. On Saturday he came to the conclusion that "his" section hands were not working to suit him, and, procuring a murderous knife, he proceeded to do up the gang in short order because they would not take up the track according to his instructions. He did not hurt any one, but Constable C. S. Gilbert of Pomona went down to take him in. He soon got hold of the knife and then attempted to arrest the colored man. A lively fight took place, and, the officer got badly scratched up and bitten in several places. The man was finally overpowered, taken before Judge Barnes, and sent to Los Angeles. He says Presideat Haerison sent him out here to look after the railroad.

Sullivan's Insanity Induced by Drink.

upreme Court Decision in Local Damage Suit.

udgment is Reversed and a N Trial Ordered.

The Calhoun Assault Case on Trial in De Go to San Quentin for One Year.

James O. Sullivan, a printer by trade, was brought before Judge McKinley and Drs. Wernigk and Kierulff yester-day afternoon, upon a complaint sworn to by L. Callahan, for examination as to his sanity. Sullivan is a Grand Army man and well known to Grand Army man and well known to the printing fraternity. For some time past he has been acting very queefly, threatening to do injury to his fellow workmen and to commit suicide. In the course of the testimony it was developed yesterday that the man is a habitual and hard drinker, and that while under the influence of liquor is very offensive and really dangerous. very offensive and really dangerous very offensive and really dangerous. Several weeks ago he attended a meeting of a G.A.R. post, and became so noisy there that the officers decided to put him out. This made Sullivan angry, and he went to his room and procured a revolver. Returning to the meeting, he demanded admission, which was refused. He then created a row, and in the scuffle that followed, the pistol was discharged, the bullet passing through the clothes of one of the post officers. Sullivan was arthe post officers. Sullivan was ar-rested for assault, but the evidence was not strong enough to warrant his be-ing held upon the examination. He went back to work again and kept sober for a while, but soon took to im-went back to work again and kept sober for a while, but soon took to imbibling as freely as ever. He pleaded pitiously yesterday not to be sent to the asylum, saying that at all times, when not drinking, he was as same as anyone. Upon his promising to let liquor alone and behave himself, Judge McKinley directed that he be released. The Sullivan examination was hardly over before Mrs. Elizabeth Foley, a middle-aged lady, was called. Mrs. Foley, with her two daughters, Kitty and Minnie Foley, came o this city recently from St. Louis on the advice of a physician, who recommended a change of climate for the younger daughter, who is an invalid. The mother had previously manifested signs of temporary insanity, and since the arrival of the family here she has become much worse. The examining physicians had no doubt as to her mentally unbalanced condition, and she was ordered committed to the Agnews asylum for treatment.

JUDGMENT REVERSED. JUDGMENT REVERSED.

Supreme Court opinion was yes-ay received in this city in the case A Supreme Court opinion was yesterday received in this city in the case of A. Ramish, respondent, vs. Kirschbraun & Sons, appellants, in which it is ordered that the judgment of the lower court be reversed and the case remanded for trial. The decision sets forth that the facts of the case were fully stated in the opinion of the court found in the 90th California, 581, where judgment was reversed. The plaintiff in Los Angeles purchased from the defendant in Omaha a carload of eggs, to be delivered in Los Angeles. The eggs arrived in Los Angeles. The eggs arrived in Los Angeles. The eggs arrived in Los Angeles on July 8, but, owing, as is was claimed, to the negligence of the defendants, plaintiff was unable to secure possession of them until July 14. Upon the question as to the measure of damages the trial court instructed the jury as follows: "If your verdict be for the plaintiff, you should, then, of course, estimate the amount of damages, and in so doing the rule should be the difference between what the eggs cost the plaintiff by the terms of contract and the vidue of the eggs to him at the time and place when they ought to have been delivered by the terms of the contract. The value to him at that time and place was the market value at that time and place."

The foregoing instructions did not state the true rule of damages in a case of the contract. The value to him at that time and place was the market value at that time and place."

The foregoing instructions did not state the true rule of damages in a case of this character. The cost price of the eggs was an immaterial element in the case. If the foregoing rule was the correct one, then the value of the eggs, at the time they were actually received by plaintiff would be an immaterial element, and evidence addressed to that inquiry was not within the issue. But the contrary was the fact, and a determination as to the value upon the 14th of July, the day when the eggs were actually received, was absolutely necessary in order that plaintiff's damages might be properly estimated. It was entirely apparent that the eggs might have been of a greater value on July 14, when they were actually received, than they were upon July 8, when they should have been received. Upon such an assumption of facts plaintiff would not have suffered any damages whatever, but, on the contrary, would have been greatly benefited by the delay in delivery; yet, under the instructions of the court quoted, he might have been entitled to the amount of damages warded by the jury.

In addition to the reasons suggested the court in its previous decision had said that the evidence should have been confined to the inquiry of what was the market value of the eggs between July 8 and July 14.

The law of the case should be deemed as settled to that effect, and the judgment and order would be reversed accordingly.

J. Cathoun and Henry Hunt became involved an a drunken row on San Fernando street one night during the latter part of last month. Calhoun seemed to be the aggressor and belabored Hunt very severely over the head before the fight was ended. The latter was confined to his bed for several weeks from the effects of his injuries, and when he was able to get out he lost no time in lodging a complaint against Calhoun for assault with a deadly weapon. The case was on trial yesterday in Department One, J. G. Burke, G. A. Shilling and F. W. Steddom being placed upon the stand on behalf of the prosecution. THEY HAD A FIGHT.

Fred Andrews, the morphine flend, convicted of burglary, was yesterday sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the State prison at San Quentin. Before passing the sentence the court overruled the motion for a new trial made by the defendant's attorney, after hearing argument in the matter.

On motion of the District Attorney, an information was yesterday filed in Department One, charging F. Burrell with the crime of petty larceny on prior conviction. Court Notes.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Opening of the Assembly at Long Beach.

The Season of 1893 Successfully Inaugu rated-Leaders and Teachers All Present-Interesting Evening Session.

Rev. C. F. Winbigler opened the sixth annual session of the Southern California Chautauqua Assembly at Long Beach at 8 o'clock Monday evenwith a few appropriate remarks. ered from all sections of Southern California, giving promise of a successful

The opening quartette was sung by Misses Marie Park and Nellie Fowler, and Messrs. O. Stewart, Taylor and J. R. Logie, followed by prayer by Rev. E. A. Healy, after which "The Lord is My Shepherd" was sung as a duet by Miss Fowler and Mr. Taylor.

Miss Naoma Alfrey recited a char-acter sketch from Will Carleton, "Uncle Stebbins at Ocean Grove," and Miss Marie Park rendered the solo, 'In Seville's Groves."

President S. H. Weller then deliv-

President S. H. Weller then delivered the opening address, congratulating those present over the fact that in spite of the Columbian Exposition and bank runs the meeting gives promise of another growing and successful assembly. He briefly recited the several causes which the assembly has for self-gratulations, prominent among which is the united condition and spirit with which the work of the year is undertaken.

Miss Neally Stevens rendered a plano solo which elicited a hearty encore, to which she responded.

solo which elicited a hearty encore, to which she responded.
Brief outlinessof the work to be done were given by those who will have charge of the classes: Bible study, by Dr. Charles Kent; cooking, by Kate E. Whitaker; "The Shells of the Pacific Ocean," by Prof. Josiah Keep; elecution and physical culture, by Naoma Alfrey, and chorus practice, by Prof. O. S. Taylor.

Miss Fowler sang "Angus McDonald" to so good effect that she found it necessary to respond to an encore. J. R. Logie's solo, another of the musical numbers introduced between the addresses, met with equal cordiality, with dresses, met with equal cordiality, with like results. The audience had by this time warmed to the harmonies, but got time warmed to the narmonies, but got only a speech for an encore after O. Stewart Taylor's solo.

After the announcement for Tues-day's proceedings the programme closed with a quartette, "Good Night," after which a short season of social greeting concluded the symptom to the general concluded the evening, to the general satisfaction of all.

Notes.

The Breaker is issuing a bright letter daily during the assmbly's continuance, keeping up with the proceedings by daily reports.

Judged by the cash receipts of the first evening the assembly this year will exceed in both interest and financial returns that of previous years. The local management feels greatly encouraged over the present outlook, both for what it means this season as well as for its auguries for the future.

what it means this season as well as for its auguries for the future.

Very many familiar faces were to be seen at Monday evening's meeting of former attendants upon the Chautau-qua meetings, gathered from widely-separated sections.

Among the gratifying features of the opening meeting was noted that which insures a continuing interest, the presence of all the speakers, teachers and leaders of the various departments.

Saved His Dog.
Yesterday morning, about 8 o'clock, Assistant Postmaster Lewis caught the dog-catcher in the act of trying to persuade his little Scotch terrier out of his yard at Figueroa and Thirteenth streets. Mr. Lewis told the man he had no right to take a dog out of a yard, but the fellow persisted, and succeeded in getting the canne in his arms. Mr. Lewis grabbed the dog, when the dog-catcher reached for his "gun," at the same time displaying his policeman's star. The matter was finally settled by the dog being released. Mr. Lewis will bring the matter before the police commissioners. snade his little Scotch terrier out of his

WORLD'S FAIR RATES.

The Expected Cut May Soon Be Made.

and Trip of One Fare Promised-Decreas in Passenger posed Cause of the

An Associated Press dispatch from Chicago announces that the Western roads are at last ready to come down on World's Fair rates, and are ready to go almost to the bottom. The St. to go almost to the bottom. The St. Paul, Northwestern, Atchison and Rock Island have requested Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger Association to call a meeting for Friday, saying it is desirable that tickets be sold every day good for passage on regular trains and good for return passage from Chicago any day up to and sage from Chicago any day up to and including the final return limit of sage from Chicago any day up to and including the final return limit of about thirty days.

One way rates between important terminals are to be based proportionately upon whatever reduction may be made and agreed upon for round trip rates. The association will consider the establishment of the fare at one and one-third rate for the round trip for points within 200 miles of Chicago, and one fare from points over 200 miles from Chicago. There is every prospect that the association will yield these points. The passenger business for July is showing a marked decrease from June, and the roads are beginning to feel uneasy.

Speaking of this somewhat worn-out subject of rate-culting between the Coast and the East, the San Francisco Chronicle has this to say "Although the rate given at every railroad office for first-class fare to Chicago is $53.75, one can go right out on the street and get quotations considerably lower. There is no trouble in getting tickets to Chicago for $48 and $48. This shows that rate-cutting is going on all along the line. Indeed, that is admitted.

"The northern transcontinental lines have made another cut, and are now selling tickets from Portland and the sound ports to Chicago for $30. With the $20 rate from this city to Portland the fare via that route is $50, and by steamer $46. Tickets are being sold right along over the direct routes to meet those figures. The local agents are not happy over the situation, however."

NEED LARGER STEAMERS.

The North American Navigation Company has sent out a notification to its patrons that the company will advance rates, so as to leave the present margin of difference between the sea and rail rates intact. The Navigation people will make a proportionate advance in their rates every time the railroads announce a raise. They expect to be in much better condition to handle freight after the Progreso arrives from around the Horn. At present the ships on the Pacific side do not balance in tonnage the steamers on the Atlantic side. In consequence, it sometimes occurs that a portion of the freight landed from the Atlantic side has to be left at Panama, because the steamer on this side is too small to accommodate it. This is especially the case with the St. Paul, which is very small for the trade she is engaged in. On her last voyage she left a quantity of freight, much of it in broken lots, at Panama, which caused shippers considerable annoyance. When the Progreso gets in it is expected that this annoyance will cease. She is a large vessel, and has a heavy freight capacity.

SCRAP HEAP. NEED LARGER STEAMERS.

SCRAP HEAP. General Passenger Agent Goodman, of the Southern Pacific is now on his way home from Chicago. As soon as he arrives 4n San Francisco another meeting of the local ticket agents will be called to discuss World's Fair rates. san Franciscans are confident that the capital stock for the building of the proposed San Francisco, Stockton and San Joaquin Railroad will be all subscribed within thirty days, despite the financial stringency provalent the North.

A. B. Garretson of Osceola, Iowa, assistant chief of the Order of Railway Conductors, has come to the Coast to make an effort to get a satisfactory settlement of the grievances which the order has heretofore presented to the Southern Pacific managers, regarding the dismissal of a number of conductors.

The report that a receiver is to be appointed for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company seems to be unfounded. The officers of the company treat the statement as ridiculous, and say that a profit is being made on every cargo sent out, and that the way business down the Mexican and Centrul American coasts is increasing rapidly. H. E. Huntington also states that the financial condition of the company has not been better for years.

The Canadian Pacific is out with its been better for years.

The Canadian Pacific is out with its new rates, to take effect on the 20th inst. The raises are made on the same classes of freight as those on which the Southern Pacific advanced rates, showing a small differential in favor of the Canadian road. It is generally understood that the new rates of both lines are the result of a common understanding, and there seems no disposition at the offices of either company to deny that such is the case.

Bicycle Thief Arraigned. L. H. Field of No. 2151 Maple avenue was arraigned by Justice Seaman yesterday on a charge of grand larceny. It is alleged that he stole a wheel belonging to H. H. Parker that had been-left for a short time on the street. It is said that he changed the appearance of it and that it was found in his possession in that condition. The preliminary examination in his case was set for the 26th inst.
